Take your career further

As a French Teacher in Nova Scotia

Is this rewarding career path right for you?

ARE YOU A STUDENT IN A STEM OR AN ARTS PROGRAM?

→ You don't need a background in French language studies; in fact, students in Science, Technology, Engineering, Math, Economics, Sociology, and Psychology are in demand for the Bachelor of Education program. French teachers do more than just teach French. They teach math, science, social studies and many subjects in French!

HAVE YOU STUDIED CORE FRENCH OR FRENCH IMMERSION?

- Did you study core French or were in the French immersion program? Was French one of your stronger subjects in school? Then you would be a great candidate for a Bachelor in Education with French as a teachable.
- Plan ahead to choose a French teachable in the Bachelor of Education program. Take advantage of the Explore program which offers 5-week intensive summer French courses across the country funded by the Federal government. Seek out opportunities to spend time practicing your French such as vacationing in Quebec, New Brunswick or visiting French areas in Nova Scotia. Volunteer with French organizations and communities. Join a conversation group or take French classes to work on your French proficiency. www.myexplore.ca/en

ARE YOU PASSIONATE ABOUT YOUR FIELD OF STUDY?

→ Are you a math whiz? Could you talk for hours about science? Do you love to discuss and debate current affairs? Teaching could be the opportunity to share your passion and expertise. As a teacher, you will have a significant impact on your students. The more passionate you are about the subjects you are teaching the more you will foster academic success and confidence in your students.

Upgrading and enriching your

→ French proficiency is easier when you are motivated. Studies have shown that adolescents and young adults are usually better at learning languages, also having prior knowledge of language learning is a bonus. With dedicated time, resources and a supportive network, language learners outperform their peers!
